Your community depends on your team to provide water and sewer services without fail. And you're committed to providing the best customer service because your close-knit community is comprised of your friends and neighbors.

Whether you serve one hundred or five thousand households, you need CIS software that will increase efficiency and customer satisfaction.

inHANCE Small Business, designed with your community in mind.

We designed inHANCE Small Business for smaller communities that need a complete information management system but don't want to pay for features and functions they're unlikely to use. With ISB you can receive payments, generate billing and manage work orders with a few clicks of your mouse. From a single screen, you'll be able to access and modify customer information, and you'll have standard reports to analyze business operations. Our flexible rate configuration solution makes complicated calculations straightforward, eliminating manual data entry. With ISB, you'll process collections efficiently, reducing your revenue cycle

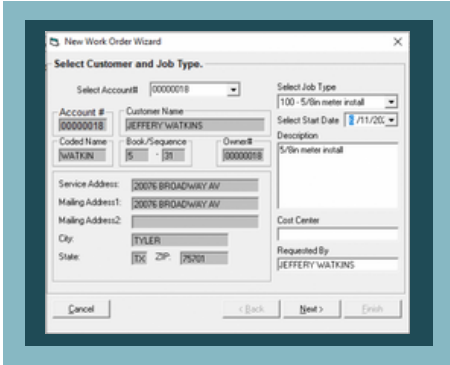

First of all, I can't tell you how much I love inHANCE Small Business! It's extremely easy to learn and explain a problem that I'm having. I can just call support, and halfway through telling them what I need a report to look like, the next thing I know, they have exceeded my expectations AGAIN!

designed to work with your accounting software.

ISB interfaces with many leading general ledger software, like QuickBooks and Sage 50, so you can export your customer billing data to your GL software, keeping everything up-to-date and in one place. You'll gain valuable insights to analyze business operations, create efficient workflows, and streamline your operations.

designed to make work order creation easy.

ISB has a user-friendly Work Order and Inventory System that many smaller utilities need but often have to pay extra for with most CIS software. The Work Order Wizard makes creating, assigning, tracking and completing work orders easy, reducing paper work and manual reporting errors, saving you time and money.
